Note

The target audience is for full-time public service personnel tasked with fire investigative duties. Priority for acceptance into this course will be given to those students who are Iowa residents and currently fulfilling an investigator role or actively participating in the investigation process within their Iowa-based fire or law enforcement department.

Applicants not employed full time in the fire investigation field may be eligible and must submit a detailed letter from the chief of their department attesting to their position, duties, and responsibilities as related to fire investigation and involvement with the prosecution of state arson laws, if any.

Due to the extremely limited class size each application will be screened. You will be notified once you have been accepted into the class. For departments with multiple enrollments, the Fire Service Training Bureau may contact your department to establish priority.
